

HOW OUR CITY WORKS

CITY COUNCIL

The City of North Vancouver is governed by City Council, a group of seven people who are elected by voters every four years.

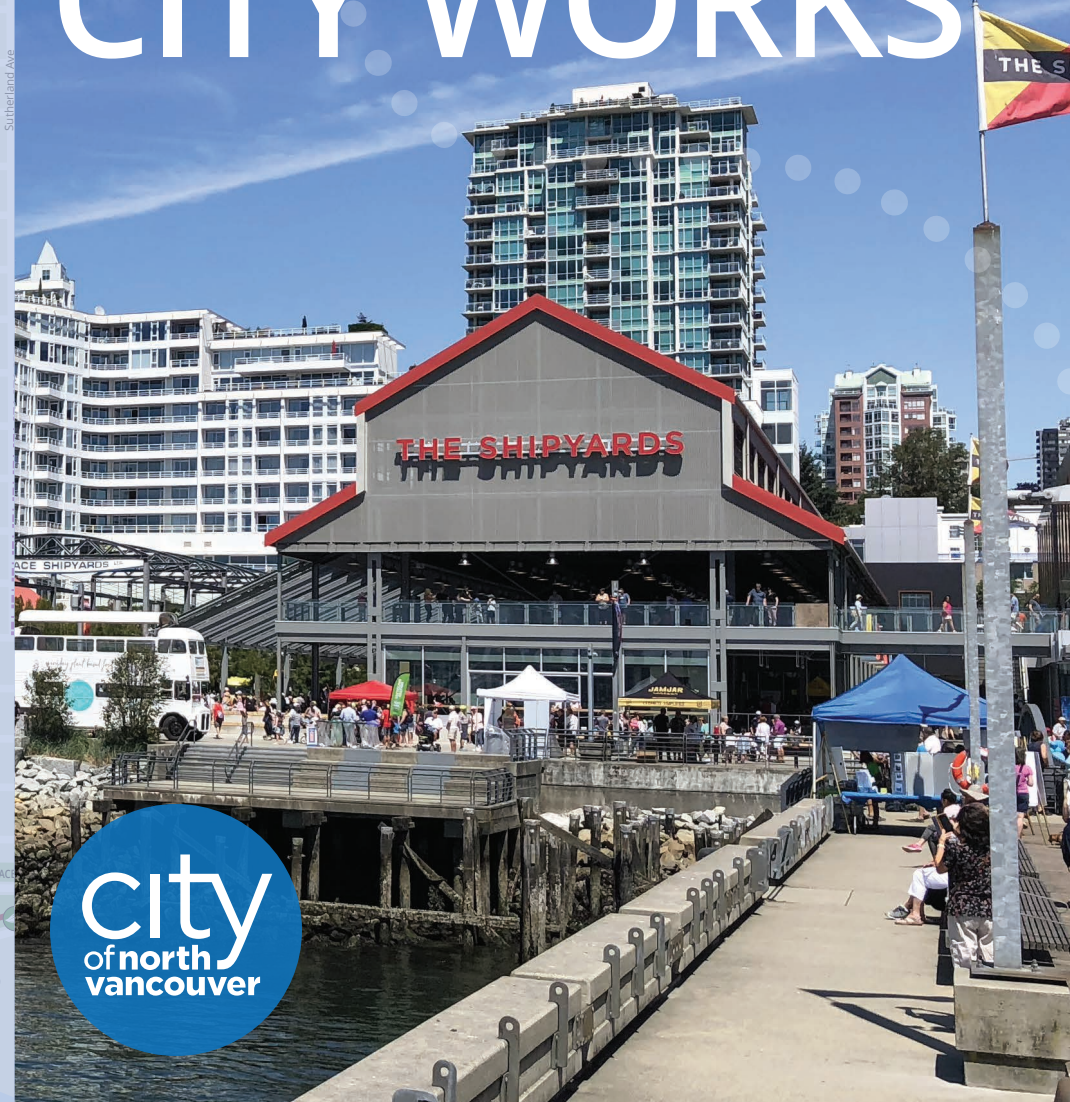

You can see the current Councillors in the picture above, from left to right: Councillors Angela Girard, Shervin Shahriari, Tony Valente, Mayor Linda Buchanan, Councillors Jessica McIlroy, Don Bell and Holly Back.

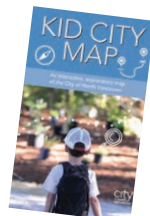

Mayor Linda Buchanan is the head of City Council.

WHAT DOES THE CITY DO FOR YOU?

HELPS US GET AROUND

Our crews fix, build and maintain streets, trails and sidewalks.

PROVIDES CLEAN DRINKING WATER

We provide clean drinking water and make sure we're all conserving water. We also take care of our sewer system.

HELPS YOU STAY ACTIVE

Swim, skate, play sports or take a dance class at one of our community recreation centres.

COLLECTS GARBAGE AND GREEN CAN

Our big trucks empty your garbage bins and make sure your green waste is recycled.

MAINTAINS OUR PARKS

Our staff cut the grass and keep our playgrounds, fields and trails tidy and beautiful.

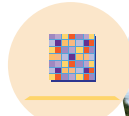

PROVIDES THE LIBRARY

Drop by to borrow books and take part in programs, events and activities year-round.

PLANS OUR CITY

City staff plan streets and neighbourhoods with access to parks, transit, recreation and nature.

PROVIDES PUBLIC ART

Check out the beautiful public art all over the City.

HELPS THE EARTH

Our Living City team protects our environment by planting trees and reducing our waste and energy use.

KEEPS US SAFE

Working with staff and partners, we help keep people safe from fires and crime, make sure people follow the City's rules (called "bylaws") and prepare for emergencies like big storms or earthquakes.

SPENDS RESPONSIBLY

The City takes care of a budget and makes sure taxpayers' money is spent responsibly on things that make our community a great place.

CREATES FUN PUBLIC SPACES

The City provides fun events and public spaces, including The Shipyards, which has a skate plaza in the winter, a splash park in the summer and lots of community events, concerts and markets all year-round.

Did you know?

The City of North Vancouver has a strategy to make sure our community is a great place for kids, teens and families. It's called the Child, Youth + Family Friendly Strategy and you can learn more at cnv.org/cnv4me.
