

December 6, 2017
For Immediate Release

The North Vancouver Community Arts Council presents

The poster features a background image of three cylindrical clay sculptures with a textured, bark-like surface. The text is overlaid on a white background.

City Atrium Gallery

Bev Ellis | *Together: Broken
December 5, 2017- February 23, 2018
Artist Talk:
Wednesday, Jan 17, 12:15 - 12:45pm
North Vancouver City Hall
141 West 14 Street | Hours: Mon-Fri 8:30am - 5pm

NORTH VANCOUVER COMMUNITY
ARTS COUNCIL
BUILDING STRONG COMMUNITIES THROUGH THE ARTS North Vancouver Community Arts Council | Art in the Community Programme | nvarsouncil.ca | 604.988.6844

city
of north vancouver

This installation is an exploration of relationships, identity and isolation. Bev transforms clay to mimic tree bark and contemplates human emotions of vulnerability, imperfection and raw beauty through nature. Clay allows Bev to represent texture in captivating forms.

"I have always loved nature. The flaws and uniqueness of trees speak of loveliness to me. I am an artist and playful gardener who loves bringing nature indoors whenever possible."

Bev Ellis | *Together: Broken

Artist Talk

Wednesday, January 17, 2018

12:15 - 12:45pm

Please join Bev Ellis as she talks about her inspiration behind her installation!

Bev Ellis is an artist, jewellery designer and art teacher. She studied Fine Arts at UFV and has continued to grow through experimentation. Her artwork is part of private and corporate collections across Canada, the USA, England and New Zealand.

-30-

Media Contact: Stefanie Wysota, Exhibition Manager, North Vancouver Community Arts Council 335 Lonsdale Avenue, North Vancouver | nvarsouncil.ca | 604.988.6844 | exhibitions@nvarsouncil.ca

